

Project: ROSETTA

This is a project developed by David Mazure for the vinyl installation and animated video titled, Rosetta, for his upcoming exhibition at the William King Regional Art Center in Abingdon, VA in Spring 2010.

The instructions are fairly simple. Please copy the text exactly, in your own handwriting, from the following page of this pdf onto the lines provided for you. An important part of this project is the special characters included in the sentences below (please pay special attention to these, along with all capital letters and punctuation). With your permission, I may use your handwriting as part of the installation. Participation in this project denotes your permission.

For those of you participating over the internet, please download the pdf and send to the below address:

Please include your name, so I can give you credit.

Thanks in advance to any who are participating!

This project will begin with the utmost urgency, so if you plan to participate, I must receive your submission no later than November 27th, 2009.
